

PROVIDING EQUAL ACCESS FOR AFRICAN AMERICAN LGBTQ POPULATIONS

Counselors, case managers, clinicians, and other community and social service providers working with African American lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgendered, queer, and questioning (LGBTQ) communities; will receive essential information, and best practices for providing equal access to services; as well as, concrete strategies to specific scenarios that will explore LGBTQ-affirming procedures and systems for effective service provision.

By the end of the training, participants will be able to:

- > Define terms, identities, and concepts associated with African American LGBTQ communities
- > Describe systemic barriers to health care access, legal, and policy issues that impact African American LGBTQ communities
- > Develop culturally competent best practices for working with African American LGBTQ, and gender non-conforming individuals and families
