

Seneca Institute for Advanced Practice, in partnership with Alameda County Behavioral Health Care Services presents...

"Do No Harm: Managing Aggressive Behaviors in a Behavioral Health Setting" presented by Kevin Conboy, MSW

This course, adapted from Seneca Family of Agency's Ahimsa Model, was created to train social service providers on how to react when approached by clients who are in crisis. In determining how to respond to individuals when their reactions are unsafe, this model focuses on the concept that each person's experience is unique and must be met with compassion in order to be properly managed. This course takes a deeper look into the social service providers' motivation and understanding of human reactivity so that they are able to meet the needs of clients professionally, while maximizing safety and minimizing risk. Two dates to choose from; one for administrative staff on 6/19/17 and another for clinicians on 6/21/17.

Continuing Education (CE credits): This course meets the qualifications for 6 hours of continuing education credit for MFTs, LPCCs and/or LCSWs as required by the California Board of Behavioral Sciences, Provider Approval Number PCE 307, the California Board of Registered Nurses, BRN Provider Number 12040, and the California Foundation for Advancement of Addiction Professionals (CFAAP), Provider Number 4C-04-604-0618.

Administrative Staff:
June 19, 2017
Clinicians:
June 21, 2017
9:00am - 4:30pm
6925 Chabot Road
Oakland, CA 94618

REGISTER NOW

To register:

Go to: <http://alameda.netkeepers.com>

For registration assistance,
contact Training Unit,

(510) 567-8113; email Training.Unit@acgov.org

For information: Paul Takayanagi,
Paul.Taka@acgov.org

If you are working with at-risk youth in Alameda, Solano, San Francisco or Monterey County, Seneca Institute training classes are available to you free of charge.

In accordance with California Civil Code Section 54.1, any disabled person who may require accommodations (transportation) to participate in any trainings or events, please contact Shohreh Hemmat at 510-654-4004 at least 5 days in advance.

